

Partnerships and Joining Forces for Impact

What are the key lessons you have learned about leveraging informal partnerships and joining forces for impact and mobilising additional resources?

25 responses

Early Action GBF

Resources mobilisation

Benefits from lessons learnt.

We have leveraged experiences in which these institutions bring...this was key to the impact and mobilisation of additional resources

Synergistic efforts by different partners enables coordination of work and prevents duplication of work

Establishing partnership from true conversation and mutual work is key to make such partnership meaningful . Maintaining the partnerships through continuous meet-ups and exchange is necessary.

partnership is a key for biodiversity and ecosystem conservation

Identify organizations, private and government with similar mission/objectives to partner with.

It has helped in accelerating the implementation of the Action Plan. It has also helped in mobilizing resources through consortium approach.

What are the key lessons you have learned about leveraging informal partnerships and joining forces for impact and mobilising additional resources?

25 responses

A holistic approach in achieving set targets can be done

From Day 1, it seems best to link up and formalize arrangements with government policy makers first so that funding and work plans are streamlined Opportunities to partner are readily available, especially by institutions that have complimentary or similar activities, with management of expectations on support from partnership key.

There must be sufficient time to mobilise support and integrate partners with vested and aligned interests

Harmonization of approaches, targets and indicators, for scaled-up delivery

In Trinidad and Tobago our beekeeping organisation was able to expand our outreach and educational impact by partnering with the BES-Net TT team.

Importance to engage sectorial and social participation not only the environmental sector

Just knowing what others are doing and how they are going about it. Lessons for success and barriers so that technology transfer and adoption enhanced.

GBF early action

What are the key lessons you have learned about leveraging informal partnerships and joining forces for impact and mobilising additional resources?

25 responses

Partnership with private sector is important for impacts and mobilising resources

The opportunity to network with government and private sector partners with similar goals is critical also Provides opportunities for NGOs like ours to contribute meaningfully to policy development which affects pollinator health

Government appreciation of the mobilisation and development agenda promotion by the civil society and semi-autonomous government agencies. Facilitation of dialogue/information sharing to spur action

Political will and political power are critical for the formulation and effective operation of platform

Involvement of private sectors and planning and financing authorities

Academia and research communities must take part in the platform